

Business Office Solutions

A new Lambton County business promises to help take care of business for other businesses.

"Busy Office Solutions" owned by Cheryle Timperley, offers a variety of services to business owners including but not limited to clerical assistance, organizing files and offices, bookkeeping and marketing tools such as desktop publishing. This home-based business in Wyoming allows services to any business within the Sarnia-Lambton County area. Timperley has more than 35 years experience in office administration within various office settings and departments. "Customer service is my number one priority," said Timperley. She will provide businesses a customized service with flexible hours to suit their individual needs.

Born and raised in the Sarnia-Lambton County area, Timperley has travelled extensively in the United States only to return home to family and friends in the area that she loves. "California and Texas are beautiful but my heart strings brought me home," she said.

"Family and friends have been suggesting I open my own business for years now. The present economic conditions just seemed right for me to act on that advice," says Timperley. By contracting services to "Busy Office Solutions" business owners can save substantially in the cost of overhead, benefits, HR issues, employee training and turnover and buying equipment.

Cheryle was able to start her own business by attending SEB at Sarnia Lambton Business Development Corporation in Sarnia.
